REMARKS BY MRS. A. H. FELLER AT DEDICATION OF SPECIAL READING ROOM
IN MEMORY OF HER HUSBAND

Abe hardly ever prepared a speech in advance. He would always say, "I can't until I see what the audience is like and what their mood is."

Today I know what this audience is like and what is your mood. You are our friends and your mood is one of sadness.

But I want you to know how much Abe enjoyed all the things he did. He loved teaching, writing, and working for the United States Government. Most of all he was happy in his work at the United Nations. All of his life was a preparation for that.

I have been so fortunate to have had the companionship of such a man and to have shared his life. I am fortunate now because of your continuing friendship. Your concern and kindness have helped me so very much.

This tribute to my husband makes me very proud and will fortify me always. I am very grateful for it.
